
Cuando ha llegado el momento de cambiar una estructura. Aprende a prevenirlo. (Puertas de interior,Ventanas de madera,Puertas de exterior)

04, mayo

La detección o el diagnóstico de algún síntoma de deterioro en las estructuras de madera es una parte fundamental dentro de las patologías de las edificaciones, puesto que en los inmuebles antiguos y actuales es frecuente encontrar techos compuestos por estructuras de vigas de madera.

Discernir adecuadamente cuál es el motivo que ha originado el daño de una estructura de madera es esencial a la hora de proponer una restauración correcta. El tratamiento sería distinto si la causa del deterioro es ataque de hylotrupes bajulus (carcoma), un ataque de termitas o un ataque de pudrición parda (hongos), por citar algunos ejemplos. No obstante, si se aprecia en las vigas principales o secundarias un deterioro importante por una merma considerable de su sección, lo más normal y sensato es sustituirla, ya que mantener la estructura dañada podría poner en serio peligro la seguridad de los habitantes del edificio y de sus alrededores. El nivel de deterioro se determina inspeccionando bien los forjados de madera, analizando los restos de los componentes de madera atacados por alguna plaga, o bien, cogiendo muestras para averiguar cuál es el alcance de la patología, para posteriormente tomar una decisión más o menos drástica.

En el caso de que las vigas sufrieran una degradación menor, se procedería a reforzarlas. La alternativa más habitual es la colocación y distribución de perfiles metálicos, por medio de diferentes soluciones que suelen proponer los especialistas (refuerzos en apoyos, contrafuertes interiores, refuerzos con fibra de carbono, etc.).

De cualquier forma, la mejor medida es siempre la prevención. Para que una estructura de un inmueble se mantenga en buen estado con el paso del tiempo hay que seguir una serie de pautas. Por ejemplo, es un error frecuente ocultar las estructuras de madera con falsos techos, impidiendo que la madera pueda eliminar la humedad, lo que facilita el ataque de insectos y hongos. De hecho, se evitaría fácilmente colocando rejillas de ventilación distribuidas por el falso techo. También se debe evitar pintar las vigas con pinturas y barnices; lo ideal es emplear lasures o tintes, puesto que permiten que la madera respire, al contrario de los primeros, que son productos de poro cerrado.

Asimismo, es indispensable, cuando la estructura se encuentra en buen estado, tratar la madera de forma adecuada contra las humedades y los xilófagos (insectos de la madera). Principalmente, se emplean los tratamientos de barrera química (impiden el paso de los insectos), tratamientos de inyección (introducción en la madera de biocida a presión mediante taladros) y aplicación de gel (geles especiales que penetran en la madera).

I precisely needed to thank you so much yet again. I do not know the things I would've taken care of without these secrets contributed by you regarding this problem. It seemed to be a very frightful crisis for me, but encountering a new well-written tactic you processed it forced me to jump with contentment. Now i am happier for the work and hope you are aware of an amazing job you happen to be getting into educating people through your web blog. Probably you haven't come across any of us. ████████

While I agree with the basics in - Gulvafslibning | Kurt Gulvmænd , I think the buoyant sentiment around today is a consequence of a false set of circumstances. The demand for consumer loans is still weak and there is no significant improvement in the housing market. The developed nations are surviving on their governments ability to just borrow and spend into their economies which is difficult to maintain. Regards, Estela Camp. instagram

Wow! This is such an amazing thing to learn I have ever come across during my whole span as an academic writer Ireland. This is without a doubt to be considered that the tropical woods site in primary forest is quite taken over by the secondary forest so rapidly. This is just a matter of importance to understand the relationship between species and the diversities are functional quite pathetic. It is absolutely worth-knowing that associated loss in the functional diversity of animal and plant assemblages always caused the potential effect of biodiversity loss on ecosystem mechanism.
